Legislature-Gossip,

Democratic campaign which has angaged county in many years was brought to a close last night, and from sunrise to sunset to-day the battle of the ballots wil wage and determine upon whose brown shall be pressed the crowns of victory The primary will be held under a specia set of the Legislature for Henrico county and the secret ballot system will prevail and the secret ballot system will prevail.

Yesterday a great crowd was at the courthouse, and the candidates were mingling freely with the voters. County Chairman Ruffin was present and distributed the tickets and other paraphernalia to be used to-day, and it is believed that everything will move off promptly and smoothly with the rising of the sun this morning.

smoothly with the rising of the sun this morning.

The largest vote ever noticed in a primary in the county is anticipated, as it is estimated that the new registration just completed increased the Democratic vote of the county at least fifty per cent.

The ticket is a very long one, as nearly every office in the county is being contested, and it will therefore be late to-morrow night before all the returns are in. The counting of such a long ballot as will be necessary will require a great deal of time, and then, too, some of the precincts are situated in remote sections of the county. The returns will be received at the county courthouse, and no cubt a large crowd will assemble there, as interest is running high in many of the contests.

Never before in the history of Henrico county, perhaps, has there been such wide-spread interest in the result of a primary election, and not in years, if ever, have the aspirants for office been so ac-mary election, and not in years, it ever, have the aspirants for office been so active.

The House race is a warm one, and the issue is clear cut on the Mann liquor bill. Good judges were putting Messrs. Gardner and Rosenesk down as the leading candidates for this honor yesterday, and they are regarded as the typical representatives of the opposing views on the question.

Everybody was calling it a close race between the three aspirants for the Commonwealth's Attorneyship, and the latter were willing themselves to make the admission. The clerkship race is likewise classed as one in which the finish may be neck and neck, while the three candidates for treasurer are in a close struggle. Every one seemed glad yesterday that the end was near, and matters are expected to be very quiet around the courthouse in the full that always follows such a storm.

THE FIGHT BETWEEN BRENT AND HANKINS

The Library Board, recently appointed, will meet in this city on the 21st to select a successor to Mr. W. W. Scott as State librarian, Mr. Scott having been made librarian of the law library. The board consists of Judge T. S. Garnett, Mr. J. H. Fishburne, of Charlottesville; Dr. J. A. C. Chandler, of this city; Hon. A. C. Gordon, Staunton, and Hon. S. S. P. Patteson, of this city. While many candidates aspired originally to the place, Mr. Frank P. Brent and Mr. J. G. Hankins are regarded as the two now in the contest, both having taken a special course to qualify themselves for the position. Both these gentlemen are hopeful of winning, but if either is confidence. The management and direction of the library is now in charge of the committee, which was selected by the new State Board of Edugation recently, and this in turn was provided for by the new Constitution. State librarian, Mr. Scott having been Scrofula is bred in the bone, is transmitted from parent to child, the seeds are planted in infancy and unless the blood is purged and purified and every atom of the taint removed Scrofula is sure to develop at some period in your life.

No remedy equals S. S. S. as a cure for Scrofula. It cleanses and builds up the blood, makes it rich and pure, and under the tonic effects of this great Blood Remedy, the general health improves, the digestive organs are strengthened, and there is a gradual but sure return to health. DREDGE BENYUARD GOES OVERBOARD

United States Iron Clad Left Ways in Trigg Yards Yesterday at 11:45.

The Benyuard, United States dredge, building at the Trigg ship-yards, was sunched yesterday morning at 11:45 without formalities of any character.

The launching was entirely successful, and the ironclad rests now in the basin on an even keel. But a short distance on an even keel. But a short distance away is the Galveston, launched in July. No one christened the Benyuard, thouch a youth employed in the yards broke a bottle of wine over her prow. Probably four hundred people, attracted to the place by the evident signs that the launching would soon occur, saw the boat go overboard.

The Benyuard and the Galveston will be taken to the Norfolk navy-yards probably next week for completion. The three hundred or more men who have been employed here on the two boats will then be out of employment, unless the future purployed here on the two boats will then be out of employment, unless the future purchasers of the tugs of the Standard Oil Company and the Pennsylvania to be auctioned September 22d, should decide to complete them here.

The Benyuard is said to be intended for dental work about the mouth of the Mississippi River, while the Galveston will likely be employed in making the Turks pay their bills or for such other purposes as warships are needed.
